

North West Migrants Forum Chairperson's Report 2019-2020

Chairperson Report – 2019-2020

This year has been a very exciting and productive year for the organisation, with the successful delivery of a vast variety of participative programmes and support services which engaged with various sections of communities across the DCSDC area and beyond.

Throughout 2019-2020 the organisation continued to grow in both membership and public engagement in programs, with numbers exceeding the previous year.

Throughout the year we have continued to build new relationships and strengthen upon existing relationships with schools, community, and youth organisations. The strong relationships that were established enabled us to successfully deliver our projects to a wide range of people, both adults and young people from CNR, PUL and BME communities.

Some highlights for the year 2019/2020;

- Successfully delivered our Peace IV- “Let’s Talk Cultural Diversity” Project – This project worked with 11 post primary schools across DCSDC to engage young people in discussions that focused on cultural diversity, politics, religion, and identity in NI. 123 young people; 73% CNR, 11% PUL, 16% other Engaged in a minimum of 26hrs of over a 6month period, with a lot of the young people exceeded these hours.
- Schools included, St Mary’s College, At Joseph’s College, St Cecilia's College, Thornhill College, St Columb’s College, Lisneal, Oakgrove, Strabane Academy, St Brigid’s College St Patrick’s & St Brigid’s College- Funded by DSCDC
- Delivered year 3 of the 5year funded project from the National Lottery Community Fund “Peoples and Communities Fund”
- Successfully organised and delivered a Communities united intercultural family fun day which attracted over 750 people from across the north west. This is an increase of 450% on the previous year.
- The Youth Intervention Programme continued to grow and develop throughout 2019/2020. An average of 47 regular members attended the youth club weekly on a Friday evening from 7-9pm.
- The youth committee-maintained momentum and commitment in 2019/2020. With the increase in engagement from young people the committee grew from 7 members to 12. These young people lead planning meetings, steering group meetings and committee meetings helping with the planning and delivery of youth activities. This ensured young peoples voices and views were heard throughout the planning, delivery, and evaluation stages of each programme.

- Our Drop-in service was open 5 days a week, to facilitate the provision of in-person, face-to-face advice, information sharing and assessment of client's needs.
- Essential information and general advice was translated and shared to service users on a weekly basis via all NWMF social media outlets, and emailed directly to members via mail chimp. This include Essential information and general advice on the coronavirus pandemic, EU Settlement programmes and change in immigration legislation
- We also successfully delivered our "Discover culture, embrace diversity project". – 15 people received training on creative writing, storytelling, public speaking, recipe development and food hygiene. The 15 participants then delivered storytelling and food demonstration workshops to 7 community and youth organisations. The Groups that benefited included Foyle Women's Information Network, The Women's Centre, Ballymagroarty and Hazelbank community partnership, Rutledge Training Services, Galliagh Womens Group, Bogside and Brandywell health forum and NWMF youth club & English class. 150 people participated in this project
- Production of a short story book "100 Stories for Intercultural Dialogue "featuring journeys & experiences of the participants and their traditional recipes. Funded by TEO
- We became the first organisation in DCSDC to become a delivery partner for the British Council' Active Citizens programmes. Two staff members were trained to facilitate this programme and successfully delivered it to 30 adults. We also successfully hosted an International Study Visit Community Visit Programme. We hosted 7 international active citizens here in Derry and worked in partnership with R-city in Belfast
- The EU settlement scheme helped support service users through the application process. 2 staff members were trained and received a qualification to effectively deliver this advice and support

In line with the organisations continual growth fundraising continued to be a significant focus in 2019-2020. We are also aware that we are now over 3 years into our 5-year funding from the NLCF, which has been the organisations core funding, so it is essential that we begin to prepare and seek funding beyond this. I am delighted to report that our fundraising efforts have been successful, and we have secured funding from independent funders that we have not before worked with, The Joseph Roundtree foundation and St Stephens Green Trust.

This new funding enables us to grow our team. With social media becoming more prevalent in how we engage and share information with members we have raised funds to recruit a media and communication officer. We have also secured funds to recruit a community liaison officer to communicate and coordinate activities between an organisation and the community. We also successfully secured funding to tackle racial inequalities specifically focusing on the restrictions and limitations of the common travel area.

Both funding from St Stephens Green Trust, to work with young people and the Joseph Roundtree foundation, to work with adults will focus on a specific campaign to tackle racial inequalities and to open up opportunities for all residents of the north of Ireland by extending the common travel area (CTA) rights and benefits to categories of non-CTA citizens - including most BME residents - such as skilled migrants with working visas and refugees.

To conclude, I would like to wish a special note of thanks to all our board members and volunteers who showed dedication and commitment throughout 2019-2020. You are a credit to the organisation, and we could not have achieved as much if it wasn't for your continual hard work and support.

I am excited to see what the new year will bring.
